

Extinction game

When the carnivores starve everyone with a carnivore species loses an individual and everyone with an herbivore species gains an individual.

When the herbivores starve everyone with an herbivore species loses an individual and everyone with a carnivore species gains an individual.

Everyone loses an individual when pollution occurs.